Dear Parents,

Greetings from TNR Excellencia Academy !

When we talk about the unicorns and they take you right away to the kingdom of clouds; when we hear someone say, "The lost shoe," the three step sisters pluck each other's hair. Fairytales or action heroes every chapter gets us hooked to read more and more... To enjoy this merry-go-round of short stories and novels, we at TNREA has come up with the concept of 'My Classroom, My Library' wherein children can donate their books (English/Hindi/Telugu) that they've already read over and over again and wouldn't want to turn the pages of even for one more time.

Adding to the collection will help more kids get their hands on the books that their peers have been reading all this while. To help facilitate this initiative, all the parents and students are hereby requested to give away as many books as possible and help rekindle the light of wisdom and imagination among our little stars.

Looking forward to your co operation as always.

Thanks and Regards,
Ms. Karina D'Mello
